11.19 Vendor Performance Obligations

QFREEMART monitors Vendor performance to preserve trust on the Platform.

The product listing is an important aspect of the sales process, as it provides potential buyers with the information they need to make an informed purchasing decision.

The vendors are required to fulfill the following obligations in relation to the listing of products on the QFREEMART marketplace:

- a. All information related to products, including but not limited to images, descriptions, certificates, warranties, price, availability, and conditions for delivery, must comply with the provisions of the Terms of Use policy, specifically those governing content. This requirement is intended to ensure that all product information provided on the QFREEMART marketplace is accurate, complete, and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and to promote transparency, fairness, and trust in the marketplace for the benefit of both buyers and sellers.
- b. It is imperative that any Product offered for purchase has obtained prior legal approval and licensing for sale from all pertinent authorities within the jurisdiction of the India.
- c. The vendor shall not act as an intermediary or agent of a third party and shall only list products that are in their own inventory and for which they can provide legal proof of their ability to sell.
- d. The product listings must include specifications, descriptions, or limitations of product usage that comply with the relevant laws of the India.
- e. It is the responsibility of vendors to ensure that product information is updated regularly. In the rare event that the information provided deviates from the details printed on the product packaging, the information on the packaging will take precedence. As recipes may change at any time, it is recommended that customers regularly consult the ingredients list and allergy-related information on the packaging to ensure that they have the most up-to-date information.

- i. Vendors must be responsive to any inquiries or concerns raised by buyers regarding their products. This includes promptly addressing any issues with the product quality, delivery, or pricing, and providing appropriate solutions or remedies as needed.

The vendor guarantees that in the event of ceasing business operations, closing operations for a significant period, or being unable to offer listed products to customers, it will promptly notify QFREEMART. In the event that the vendor fails to do so, whether due to omission or fault, QFREEMART will not be held liable for any resulting liabilities, whether financial or otherwise.

3. Searches and rankings

QFREEMART reserves the right to determine the algorithms and parameters used to rank vendors (vendors and/or stores) and products displayed on the platform, and to modify and update them as necessary. The user acknowledges and agrees that the ranking may be influenced by various factors and metrics, such as store proximity, accessibility, previous reviews, and any agreements QFREEMART has made with vendors or product distributors regarding their positioning and visibility.

QFREEMART's right to determine the ranking of vendors and products on the platform is intended to promote fairness and transparency in the marketplace, and to ensure that buyers are able to easily find the products they are looking for. However, QFREEMART cannot guarantee that all products will be easily discoverable or that all vendors will receive the same level of visibility or sales.

To limit its liability towards customers, QFREEMART provides various search and filtering options to help users find the products they are looking for. Additionally, QFREEMART encourages vendors to provide accurate and detailed product information, including images, descriptions, and specifications, to help buyers make informed purchasing decisions.

To limit its liability towards vendors, QFREEMART provides clear guidelines and policies regarding product listings and vendor behavior on the platform. Vendors are encouraged to comply with these guidelines and to provide high-quality products and services to their customers. QFREEMART also provides various tools and resources to help vendors optimize their listings and improve their visibility on the platform.

Ultimately, QFREEMART cannot be held liable for any loss in revenue or other damages suffered by vendors or customers as a result of the ranking algorithms or other factors that may affect product visibility or sales. However, QFREEMART is committed to working with both vendors and customers to address any issues or concerns that may arise, and to promote a fair and transparent marketplace for all parties involved.

4. Placing and accepting an order

QFREEMART is committed to providing a seamless and efficient ordering process for users, while also ensuring that vendors are able to fulfill orders in a timely and effective manner. By working together, QFREEMART, users, and vendors can create a positive and successful marketplace experience for all parties involved.

It is important for users to ensure that all information provided when placing an order is accurate and up-to-date. This includes information such as the delivery address, payment details, and any special instructions or requests. Failure to provide accurate information may result in delays or other issues with the order.

When a user places an order through the QFREEMART platform, they are confirming the accuracy of all the information they provide. The platform will confirm the order to the user within the service interface. By placing an order, it is important to note that no contractual relationship exists between the user and QFREEMART. QFREEMART reserves the right to refuse to accept an order for any reason and to decline to fulfill it.

The acceptance of your order shall be contingent upon our confirmation of the receipt of the platform charges, and we shall communicate such acceptance to you in writing, including but not limited to app messages, email, or mobile messaging by the vendor.

Subject to the completion of the platform charges, the order shall be transferred to the pertinent vendor, who shall assume responsibility for its fulfillment. The vendor will be notified of the order and will have the opportunity to accept or decline it. If the vendor accepts the order, they will be responsible for processing and delivering the order to the user in a timely and efficient manner.

5. Price

By using our Service, you confirm that you are utilizing it for personal, non-commercial purposes. Please note that on QFREEMART dynamic pricing may be implemented at times, which may result in changes to the prices of Items and delivery while you are browsing.

Vendors are authorized to establish prices and modify them at their discretion, provided that such changes are made before order placement. Please note that any changes made to prices will not impact orders that are already placed. In the event of an obvious pricing error, we will notify you as soon as possible, and you will have the option to either confirm the order at the original price or cancel the order without incurring any charges and receive a full refund from vendor for payments made if any to vendor.

The prices displayed on the platform will be quoted in the local currency (INR for India) and VAT inclusive.

Please note that for goods that are charged by weight, such as fruit, meat, and cheese, the basic price per unit will apply. The actual quantity of such goods delivered may differ from the quantity originally ordered, and the price charged will be adjusted accordingly.

For pre-packed and price-labelled fresh products, the applicable price is the one in force at the time the order is prepared. Please be advised that QFREEMART reserves the right to change prices and update them at any time.

Please note that Vendors and/or their delivery partners may charge a delivery fee when making a delivery. You will be notified of any such fees during the order process before completing your order. The complete cost of your order, including the prices of Items, Delivery, applicable Service Fees, and taxes, will be displayed on the checkout page of our Application including variable charges if any as per mentioned conditions.

In the event that the vendor engages a third-party courier for the delivery of products, the courier is not authorized to impose additional or separate delivery charges on the customer beyond those reflected on the checkout page including variable charges if any as per mentioned conditions. The vendor is responsible for ensuring that appropriate measures are in place to prevent any unauthorized extra charges.

From time to time, there may be errors or omissions related to the pricing or description of advertised products. Vendors shall make reasonable efforts to correct any such errors or omissions as soon as possible after becoming aware of them. We reserve the right to change, modify, substitute, suspend, or remove any information related to items for sale without prior notice.

If you have already purchased a product and the Vendor has made an error or omission, Vendor shall take the following actions: (i) if the actual price of the product is lower than the stated price at the time of purchase, Vendor shall charge you the lower price; or (ii) if the actual price of the product is higher than the stated price, Vendor shall contact you and give you the option to pay the correct (higher) price or cancel your order and receive a refund;

6. Variety limitation

The selection and pricing of groceries may vary depending on the delivery location. This is due to a variety of factors, such as differences in local availability, transportation costs, and taxes or fees that may be imposed by local authorities.

To ensure that users are aware of any potential differences in selection or pricing based on their delivery location, QFREEMART provides clear and transparent information about these factors. Users can view the available selection and pricing for their specific location before placing an order, allowing them to make informed purchasing decisions.

QFREEMART works closely with vendors and suppliers to ensure that the selection and pricing of items are fair and reasonable, while also taking into account any local market conditions or regulatory requirements. By providing a diverse and affordable selection of items to users across different locations, QFREEMART is committed to promoting accessibility and convenience in the marketplace.

7. Volume limitation:

By working together to confirm orders and manage delivery quantities, vendors and users can help ensure that the QFREEMART marketplace remains a reliable and efficient platform for purchasing items.

In certain cases, the vendor may need to contact the user to confirm an order before it can be processed. This may occur if the total number of items in the order exceeds 100, or if more than 5 items of the same product are ordered. Additionally, if the order requires more than one delivery personnel to handle due to volume limitations, the vendor may need to confirm the order with the user.

It is important to note that the vendor reserves the right to limit the delivery quantity for particular products or, if necessary, not to deliver a particular product at all based on availability. This is to ensure that all orders can be fulfilled in a timely and efficient manner, while also maintaining the quality and integrity of the products being delivered.

If the vendor needs to contact the user to confirm an order, they will do so as soon as possible to minimize any potential delays or issues with the order. The user should be prepared to provide any necessary information or clarification to ensure that the order can be processed and delivered as smoothly as possible.

The vendor can reserve the right to decline any orders, at their sole discretion, if they detect bulk purchasing or the purchase of multiple units of similar products.

8. Other limitations

Delivery Delays:

If the vendor's supply of the product is delayed due to circumstances beyond their control, they will promptly notify you and take necessary measures to minimize the impact of the delay without incurring any liability.

If no one is available at your address to receive the delivery and the products cannot be handed over, the vendor will provide you with instructions on how to reschedule delivery or arrange for product collection.

If you fail to collect the product from the vendor as agreed or if, following a failed delivery attempt, you do not make arrangements for delivery or collection from a delivery depot, the vendor will contact you for further instructions. If, despite their reasonable efforts, they are unable to contact you or make arrangements for delivery or collection, they reserve the right to cancel your order.

9. Amending and/ or canceling an order

Once an order has been placed, the user may not be able to make any amendments to it due to the technical features provided by the service. However, the user may be able to cancel a placed order before it is accepted by vendor. In the event of the cancellation of a placed order, no refund shall be issued with respect to the platform charges.

It is important for users to carefully review their orders before confirming them to ensure that all information is accurate and up-to-date. If any changes or cancellations need to be made, the user should contact the vendor or QFREEMART customer service as soon as possible to determine if it is possible to do so.

10 Incomplete fulfilment

QFREEMART facilitates the delivery of all products ordered in the correct quantity and to a high standard of quality. However, users acknowledge that products are subject to stock availability and human errors. Therefore, Vendors may amend orders in whole or in part where items are unavailable, damaged, spoiled, or otherwise unsuitable for delivery. Where an item cannot be supplied, the Vendor shall either remove the item from the order or provide a suitable replacement subject to customer approval where feasible.

Vendors should endeavor to maintain the replaced item's price the same as the brand ordered, but in some cases, the price may increase if a higher valued replacement is necessary. Every effort is made by vendor to ensure that all items shown on the platform are available to order.

If an item is not delivered, despite being billed, the amount in question will be credited back to the user at a reasonable time after the vendor becomes aware of the issue. No subsequent delivery is mandatory to be made, and the customer is not entitled to claim any further compensation. If, for any reason beyond vendor's reasonable control, it is unable to supply a particular item, vendor shall not be liable to the user.

Please note that the vendor, through QFREEMART, will attempt to send push notifications in the event that selected products are unavailable. Although every effort is made to cater to orders, products can only be fulfilled at the discretion of the Vendor. QFREEMART shall not assume any liability for incomplete fulfillments, nor shall it provide any refunds for any associated platform charges related to the order.

11. Incorrect fulfilment

As a consumer, you have a legal entitlement to receive products that conform to their description, are of satisfactory quality, and meet any specific requirements that you have communicated to the vendor (and the vendor has agreed to) prior to placing your order. If you believe that the products you have received do not meet these legal standards, please inform us immediately. We may request photographic evidence of the issue if it is something that can be visually inspected and forward the matter to the vendor.

Please note that QFREEMART does not have the authority to enforce agreements between users and vendors. Our role is to mediate the situation and support both parties in reaching an amicable solution.

QFREEMART may, at its discretion, facilitate communication between Buyers and Vendors to help resolve disputes. However, QFREEMART does not adjudicate disputes and is not obligated to enforce settlement outcomes between parties.

We will keep a record of such situations and use them to inform our disciplinary decisions regarding any abusive behavior exhibited by any of our users.

QFREEMART shall not assume any liability for incorrect fulfillments, nor shall it provide any refunds for any associated platform charges related to the order.

12. Payments for Orders

QFREEMART operates as an intermediary platform that connects customers with vendors. As such, we do not process or receive any payments related to a sale. The financial transaction is solely between the customer and the vendor, and it is conducted through mutually agreed-upon means. QFREEMART does not act as a payment intermediary, escrow provider, or financial institution in relation to transactions between Buyers and Vendors unless explicitly stated otherwise through integrated payment services.

QFREEMART shall levy a platform charge, which shall be applicable to each order placement, and the payment of such charge shall be the sole responsibility of the customer. The platform charge is intended to cover the costs associated with the use of the platform, including but not limited to the processing of orders, the provision of customer support, and the maintenance of the platform's infrastructure. It is important to note that the platform charge is a necessary component of the platform's operation, and failure to pay such charge may result in the cancellation of the order or the suspension of the customer's account.

Upon the placement of an order by a customer and the completion of the platform charges, the vendor will receive the order details and the payment option provided by the customer. The vendor will then process the payment upon delivering the products and fulfilling the order. Any issues related to the payment or the order fulfillment should be addressed directly with the vendor.

Payment for all Items and deliveries can be made by cash, credit or debit card, or other payment method made available by the vendor and highlighted accordingly on the Platform and are due immediately.

Please note that if cash on delivery (COD) is an available payment option, it will be clearly indicated on the Platform before you place your order. Under COD conditions, only cash payments will be accepted upon delivery. Please be advised that couriers will only carry a limited amount of change, and as such, we kindly request that you prepare the exact payment or as close to it as possible for the order to avoid any issues with change.

Please be advised that not all vendors will be able at all times to accept payment by any and all means neither do they have any obligation to accommodate such payment methods.

Regarding digital transactions, you acknowledge that errors related to such transactions may result in a reversal of the transaction, fees, claims, penalties, or chargebacks from the financial institution or payment services provider that issued the payment card. You acknowledge that the financial institution or payment services provider that issues or supports the designated payment method linked to the account determines any amount reversed, returned, or charged back. The vendor is obligated to follow the instructions of that financial institution or payment services provider.

You agree that you will be responsible for resolving any disputes with the financial institution that issued your card or manages your account. You acknowledge that the vendor is not obligated to recall funds and will not be held liable if it is unable to partially or fully recall the funds subject to the dispute. Please note that you may not be eligible to receive a refund if you failed to keep the security details relating to your card safe or if you are a victim of financial fraud, even if the transaction was done by third parties without your knowledge or permission.

The customer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless QFREEMART from any and all claims, damages, liabilities, costs, and expenses, arising from or related to the customer's use of the QFREEMART platform and any disputes related to the vendor's ability to accept payments. The customer acknowledges that not all vendors may be able to accept payment by all means at all times and that the vendor has no obligation to accommodate such payment methods.

13. Receipt

As per our policy, the vendor is responsible for providing the user with a receipt upon delivery of the order. The receipt should include all relevant details, such as the itemized list of products purchased, the total cost of the order, any applicable taxes, and the payment method used.

The receipt serves as proof of purchase and is essential for any future inquiries or disputes related to the order. It is the responsibility of the vendor to ensure that the receipt is accurate and complete.

In the event that the user does not receive a receipt upon delivery, they should contact the vendor immediately to request one. If the vendor fails to provide a receipt or if the receipt is inaccurate or incomplete, the user may contact QFREEMART's customer support team for assistance in resolving the issue.

14. Taxes

Regardless of any other provisions stated herein, the vendor is solely responsible for all taxes, payments, fees, and any other liabilities associated with the computation, payment, and collection of taxes related to customer orders.

The vendor shall assume full responsibility for verifying the amounts collected, filing the necessary tax returns, and remitting the correct amount to the relevant tax authorities. Taxes shall encompass all applicable taxes due in connection with the sale of items, including delivery services (if applicable).

It is clarified that QFREEMART will not be liable for payment of any Taxes that the vendor is liable to pay in connection with the sale of items through the platform and hereby undertakes to indemnify, defend and hold harmless, QFREEMART and each of its affiliates and (as applicable) all of their directors, officers employees, representatives and advisors against any tax liability that may arise against QFREEMART on account of the non-payment of Taxes by the vendor under these Terms..

15. Delivery of products

The vendor is responsible for making all necessary arrangements for the delivery of products to customers, whether through their own employees or third-party delivery services.

The vendor must ensure that all products are delivered in a timely and efficient manner, and that they arrive in good condition. The vendor is responsible for packaging the products appropriately to prevent damage during transit.

If the vendor engages a third-party delivery service, they must ensure that the service provider is reliable and reputable. The vendor must also ensure that the delivery service provider is adequately insured to cover any damages or losses that may occur during transit.

The vendor must provide customers with accurate and up-to-date information regarding the delivery of their products.

In the event of any issues or delays with the delivery of products, the vendor must promptly notify the customer and take appropriate measures to resolve the issue. If the vendor chooses to engage a third-party delivery service for the delivery of products, they remain responsible for completing the order and ensuring that all items are delivered in good condition. In the event of missing or damaged products, the vendor cannot blame the courier for such issues. The vendor must take appropriate measures to resolve the issue and ensure that the customer receives the missing or damaged items as soon as possible. The vendor must also ensure that the third-party delivery service provider is adequately insured to cover any damages or losses that may occur during transit. If the vendor fails to take appropriate measures to resolve the issue, QFREEMART reserves the right to suspend or terminate the vendor's account.

The vendor is responsible for any costs associated with the delivery of products, including shipping fees and any applicable taxes or duties.

Vendors may choose to limit the areas and timings in which they deliver products. Customers should check the vendor's general conditions & item specific conditions covering conditions related to service, delivery & refund before placing an order to ensure that the vendor delivers to their area and at a time that is convenient for them. Please note that if the vendor is unable to deliver to the area from which the order was initiated, the customer cannot hold the vendor accountable for any inconvenience or losses incurred.

It is the responsibility of the customer to ensure that the delivery address provided is accurate and complete. If the delivery address is incorrect or incomplete, the vendor may not be able to deliver the products, and the customer may be charged for any additional delivery attempts. Vendors reserve the right to conduct any necessary inquiries to verify your identity and/or ownership of your financial instruments. This may include requesting additional information or documentation, such as a form of identification and/or credit card. The courier must take all necessary measures to protect the privacy of the customer and not disclose any private or confidential information. If the courier needs to authenticate the customer's identity and ownership of financial instruments and gains access to such information, they must ensure that it is kept confidential and not disclosed to any unauthorized parties.

At its sole discretion, the vendor may refuse delivery and cancel the order if it is unable to verify or authenticate any information provided by the customer.

If the vendor is unable to deliver the products due to circumstances beyond their control, such as extreme weather conditions or unforeseen events, the vendor will notify the customer as soon as possible and take appropriate measures to resolve the issue.

QFREEMART reserves the right to suspend or terminate the vendor's account if they fail to comply with this vendor's general conditions & item specific conditions covering conditions related to service, delivery & refund.

16. Special Deliveries

Special Deliveries encompass those consignments necessitating parameters exceeding the customary scope and incorporating supplementary or distinct stipulations not encompassed within the conventional delivery procedure / conditions.

Such parameters may encompass particular delivery schedules, locales, or conditions not customarily mandated for ordinary deliveries. The delivery might necessitate supplementary resources, apparatus, or personnel to satisfy the distinct stipulations. In these instances, the delivery procedure / conditions may warrant customization or adaptation to accommodate the client's or situation's singular demands.

The supplier reserves the right to impose supplementary and fluctuating delivery fees, calculated with reference to the parameter or aggregation of parameters deviating from the standard delivery procedure.

The expenses correlated with special deliveries may be influenced by factors beyond the supplier's control, including but not limited to traffic conditions, availability of auxiliary transportation facilities, overtime, and other considerations. The supplier shall endeavor to furnish a reference to the costs associated with the special delivery, and the client shall recognize that the ultimate delivery cost shall be ascertained and applied upon the delivery's conclusion.

References to pertinent fees per additional kilometer, volume, weight, overtime, or any other special circumstances shall be made accessible to the client upon order placement.

In the event of special deliveries, the supplier shall issue a supplementary receipt in addition to the order-related receipt, reflecting any additional charges applicable to the special delivery.

17. Failed deliveries

As vendors may engage third-party delivery companies and incur costs for each delivery, failed deliveries are subject to the vendor's interpretation. In the event of a failed delivery caused by the customer, the customer may still be liable for charges for the item and/or delivery.

Reasons that may cause a delivery to fail include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Failure to answer the door
- Failure to answer the phone when the driver contacts the customer using the contact information provided

- Please note that the vendor reserves the right to determine whether a delivery has failed due to the customer's actions or inactions.

In the event of any disputes arising from failed deliveries, matters shall be deferred to public or judicial authorities for resolution. The vendor shall cooperate fully with any investigations or proceedings related to such disputes.

Please note that the vendor reserves the right to take legal action against any customer who engages in fraudulent or illegal activities related to failed deliveries, including but not limited to providing false information or attempting to evade payment for the item and/or delivery.

1. Introduction

Purpose and scope

This Refund Policy is an integral part of the “Terms and Conditions” and shall be read and interpreted in conjunction with it.

The purpose of this refund policy is to provide clear guidelines and procedures for customers and merchants on the QFREEMART platform regarding refunds for products sold on the platform. The policy aims to ensure that customers are able to receive refunds for eligible products in a fair and timely manner, while also protecting the interests of merchants.

QFREEMART operates as a neutral marketplace platform that connects customers with independent vendors. All products and services listed on the platform are offered directly by vendors. Vendors are solely responsible for approving, processing, and issuing refunds, replacements, or exchanges relating to their products or services unless otherwise stated by the vendor.

QFREEMART does not collect, hold, process, or distribute payments relating to product or service purchases between customers and vendors. Accordingly, QFREEMART does not process, track, or issue refunds for such transactions. All refund requests, approvals, and payments are handled directly between the customer and the vendor according to the vendor's policies and applicable laws.

In limited circumstances, QFREEMART may, at its sole discretion, refund platform-related fees such as subscription charges, platform commissions, or service fees that were paid directly to QFREEMART. Such refunds are evaluated on a case-by-case basis after reviewing the circumstances and are not guaranteed.

This refund policy applies to all merchants and customers on the QFREEMART platform. It covers all items sold on the platform, including perishable items, fresh fruits, and non-perishable items. The policy outlines the conditions under which refunds are granted, the required documentation for refund requests, and the timeframe for processing and issuing refunds. By using the QFREEMART platform, all merchants and customers agree to comply with this refund policy.

2. Definitions

“Perishable Items” refer to products that have a limited shelf life and are likely to spoil or become unfit for consumption if not stored or handled properly. Examples of perishable items include dairy products, meat, seafood, and fresh produce.

“Non-perishable items” refer to products that have a longer shelf life and are less likely to spoil or become unfit for consumption. Examples of non-perishable items include canned goods, packaged snacks, and household items.

“Fresh fruits” refer to fruits that are not canned, dried, or frozen and are intended for immediate consumption. Examples of fresh fruits include apples, bananas, and oranges.

“Other products” refer to any items sold on the QFREEMART platform that do not fall under the categories of perishable or non-perishable items or fresh fruits.

“Vendor” (also referred to as Merchant or Seller) is an individual or business entity that sells products or services on the QFREEMART platform.

“Customer” is an individual who purchases products from merchants on the QFREEMART platform.

“Product” also called as “Items” refers to any goods or service offered for sale on the Marketplace

“Right to return” means that customers can send back a product they bought from an online store within a certain time period. This is so they can get their money back or exchange the product if it's not what they expected or is faulty. The online store's refund policy will explain the specific conditions for returns. Customers need to show proof of purchase and a valid reason for the return, and the customer will pay for the shipping unless otherwise stated in the refund policy. The right to return, replace, or exchange items depends on the nature of the product, vendor policies, and applicable consumer protection laws. Certain categories of goods may not be eligible for return once delivered unless defective, damaged, or incorrectly supplied. The right to return is important because it helps customers make good choices and avoid being stuck with products they don't want or can't use.

“Right to replace” an item means that customers can ask for a new product to replace the one they bought from an online store within a certain time period, if the original item is defective or damaged.

“Right to exchange” an item means that customers can ask for a different product to replace the one they bought from an online store within a certain time period. This is so they can get a product that better suits their needs or preferences. The online store's refund policy will explain the specific conditions for exchanges. Customers need to show proof of purchase and a valid reason for the exchange, and the customer will pay for the shipping unless otherwise stated in the refund policy. Consumer protection laws protect the right to exchange an item, so customers can feel safe to use it.

“Right to refuse” means that customers have the legal right to decline or reject a product or service offered by an online store. This is so they can make their own choices and not be forced to buy something they don't want or need. The online store's terms and conditions will explain the specific conditions for refusing a product or service. Customers can refuse a product or service for any reason, as long as it does not violate any laws or regulations. Consumer protection laws protect the right to refuse, so customers can feel safe to use it.

3. General Guidelines

3.1 Order Acceptance

Merchants on the QFREEMART platform are responsible for ensuring that all orders are accurately fulfilled and shipped to customers. Customers have the right to cancel an order before it is accepted, and merchants have the right to cancel an order if the product is out of stock or unavailable.

3.2 Timeframe for Requesting a Refund

Customers must request a refund within the timeframe specified by the vendor for each product listing. Unless otherwise specified by the vendor, refund requests should generally be raised within 48 hours of delivery for perishable products and within 7 days of delivery for non-perishable items.

3.3 Conditions Under Which Refunds are Granted

Refunds will only be granted for eligible products that meet the conditions outlined in the refund policy. These conditions may include damaged, spoiled, or incorrect items, or items that do not meet the product description. Refunds will not be granted for products that have been used or consumed, or for products that have been damaged due to customer negligence.

3.4 Refund Methods

Refunds are issued solely by the Vendor who received the payment from the customer. The method and timing of refunds will depend on the payment arrangement between the customer and the vendor and the vendor's refund policies. QFREEMART does not process refund transactions and does not guarantee the timing or method of refunds.

3.5 Returns

In some cases, customers may be required to return the product in order to receive a refund. The return process will be clearly outlined in the refund policy and may include instructions for packaging and shipping the product back to the merchant. Customers are responsible for the cost of return shipping unless otherwise stated in the refund policy.

3.6 Exchange or Replacement of items

The availability of items ordered is subject to stock availability at the respective stores. To successfully complete an order, the seller reserves the right to amend the order in whole or in part, at any time and without any liability or compensation. The seller also reserves the right to remove any item that is out of stock, damaged, spoiled, or unavailable for any other reason. It is important to note that the seller will communicate any changes to the order to the customer. The customer can contact the seller directly if they have any questions or concerns about the order. The seller will make every effort to ensure that the customer is satisfied with their purchase and will work with the customer to resolve any issues that may arise

Merchant will make every effort to ensure that all items listed on the Site as "available" are in fact available and in stock. However, if any product that a customer orders is out of stock or unavailable for any other reason, including being damaged or spoiled, Merchant may send a push notification to the customer. This will enable the customer to select a replacement item ("Replacements"), which they may choose to accept or reject. It is important to note that the customer will not incur any liability if they reject the Replacements. We will work with the customer to ensure that they are satisfied with their purchase and will make every effort to resolve any issues that may arise

Merchant will make every effort to ensure that the price of the Replacement(s) is the same as the item you originally ordered. If the replacement item has a higher price than the original item, the customer must confirm acceptance of the price difference before the replacement is processed. It is important to note that we use our best efforts to ensure that the price of the Replacement(s) is the same as the item you originally ordered. However, in some cases, the price of the Replacement(s) may be different from the item originally ordered. In such cases, Merchant will make the necessary price adjustments. Merchant will notify you of any price adjustments before processing your order

3.7 Conditions for Exchange or Replacement of Product

1. If a customer received a wrong product or, damaged product or, received a product that is not as described on the Platform, they may request an exchange or replacement of the product
2. The customer must provide proof of purchase and a valid reason for the exchange or replacement request.

4. The exchanged or replacement product must be of equal or lesser value than the original product purchased.
5. If the exchanged or replacement product is of lesser value than the original product purchased, the vendor must refund the difference to the customer.
6. If the exchanged or replacement product is of greater value than the original product purchased, the customer must pay the difference to the vendor.
7. The exchanged or replacement product must be in new, unused condition and in its original packaging.
8. The vendor has the right to refuse an exchange or replacement request if the product has been used or damaged by the customer.
9. The online QFREEMART platform is not responsible for any disputes or issues that arise between the customer and the vendor during the exchange or replacement process.
10. This policy is subject to change at any time without prior notice.

3.8 Non-returnable Products

Unless defective, damaged, expired, or incorrectly delivered, the following categories of products are generally not eligible for return, replacement, or exchange.

The following products are classified as non-returnable and cannot be returned, replaced, or exchanged:

4. Refund or account credit Policy for Different Types of Products

4.1 Classification of items eligible for refunds:

4. Non-Perishable Items and Other Products: This category includes items that are not intended for consumption. For such products exchange or replacement shall be the preferable methods of addressing complaints related to the items already purchased.

4.2 Refund Eligibility

We understand that sometimes products may not meet your expectations. Therefore, Customers may be eligible for refunds for products that are damaged, spoiled, defective, or incorrectly supplied, subject to the vendor's refund policies and applicable consumer protection laws. Refunds are not available for products that have been used or damaged by the customer.

4.3 Required Documentation

To process your refund request, we require photos of the product and order details as well as the return of the originally purchased item. This documentation helps us to verify the condition of the product and process your refund request quickly.

4.4 Process for Requesting a Refund

To request a refund, customers must follow the Vendor's refund process and contact the Vendor directly in accordance with the Vendor's policies. Customers may contact QFREEMART customer support only for assistance in facilitating communication between the customer and the Vendor. QFREEMART does not process, approve, track, or guarantee refunds issued by Vendors.
